

A Community of Readers 2017

The List for Grade 7

The Absolutely True Story of a Part-Time Indian by Sherman Alexie, fiction

Budding cartoonist Junior leaves his troubled school on the Spokane Indian Reservation to attend an all-white farm town school where the only other Indian is the school mascot.

The Book Thief by Markus Zusak, fiction

Set during World War II, this is the story of a girl who shares stolen books with a Jewish man hiding from the Nazis.

Ella Enchanted by Gail Carson Levine, fiction

A sensible girl with an unfortunate curse whose con artist father has lost all their money is forced to live at the beck and call of a selfish step-family. And then a prince falls in love with her!

Escape from Mr. Lemoncello's Library by Chris Grabenstein, fiction

Twelve-year-old Kyle gets to stay overnight in the new town library designed by his hero, a famous gamemaker, but finds that come morning he must work with friends to solve puzzles in order to escape.

Faceless by Alyssa Sheinmel, fiction

After a terrible accident, a girl receives a face transplant and, when she can't recognize herself in the mirror, feels she doesn't know who she is anymore.

Ghost by Jason Reynolds, fiction

Ghost, a naturally talented runner and troublemaker, is recruited for an elite middle school track team, but his past keeps catching up with him.

The Girl Who Drank the Moon by Kelly Barnhill, fiction

An epic fantasy about a young girl raised by a witch, a swamp monster, and a Perfectly Tiny Dragon, who must unlock the powerful magic buried deep inside her.

The Hobbit by J. R. R. Tolkien, fiction

Bilbo Baggins is a hobbit who enjoys a comfortable, unambitious life, but his contentment is disturbed when a wizard and a company of dwarves show up one day to whisk him away on an adventure.

Hour of the Bees by Lindsey Eager, fiction

At first, Carol is not happy to spend the summer helping her parents move her grandfather to an assisted living home, but she soon finds herself drawn to him, fascinated by his amazing stories.

I Am the Messenger by Markus Zusak, fiction

A cabdriver without much of a future leads a life of peaceful routine and incompetence until he inadvertently stops a bank robbery. That's when the first ace arrives in the mail. That's when he becomes the messenger.

Continues on next page

The Inquisitor's Tale by Adam Gidwitz, fiction

Three children and their holy dog end up on an adventure in medieval France filled with miracles, saints, knights, and dragons.

It Ain't So Awful, Falafel by Firoozeh Dumas, fiction

Eleven-year-old Zomorod, originally from Iran, tells her story of growing up Iranian in Southern California during the Iranian Revolution and hostage crisis of the late 1970s.

Paper Towns by John Green, fiction

By the author of The Fault in Our Stars, this novel tells the story of a boy who must try to solve the mysterious disappearance of the girl he loves.

Riders by Veronica Rossi, fiction

While recovering from the accident that most definitely killed him, Gideon finds himself with strange new powers and a bizarre cuff he can't remove. His death has brought to life his real destiny.

Soar by Joan Bauer, fiction

Moving to Ohio when his adoptive father accepts a temporary job, twelve-year-old Jeremiah, a heart transplant recipient, has sixty days to find a baseball team to coach.

The Thing about Jellyfish by Ali Benjamin, fiction

After her best friend dies in a drowning accident, Suzy is convinced that the true cause of the tragedy must have been a rare jellyfish sting. Retreating into a silent world of imagination, she crafts a plan to prove her theory-- even if it means traveling the globe, alone.

The Victory Garden by Lee Kochenderfer, fiction

During World War II, a girl and her father plant a victory garden to assist the war effort and to speed her older brother's return from overseas.

Wonder by R.J. Palacio, fiction

This story of a fifth grader with a deformity shows how his classmates and his teachers react to him during his first year at his new school.

Zebra Forest by Adina Rische Gewirtz, fiction

Inspired by her grandmother, a girl delights in making up wild stories, but then her real life takes a terrifying turn, calling into question everything she thought she knew.